The Dwarf Planets

2003 UB313, Pluto and Ceres have been proclaimed dwarf planets. 2003 UB313 is the designation of a large transneptunian object that was to become our “10th planet” on account of its size. Larger than Pluto, the object provoked Pluto’s downgrade from planet status. Pluto’s demise marks the birth of a new class of planets. The dwarf planets like 2003 UB313 or 2005 FY9 already have their delineation in the 12 astrologic houses.

Dwarf Planets in Love

Dwarf planets for lovers, kids and even pets! Largest dwarf planet 2003 UB313 as delineated in the 12 astrological houses. Get rich with ex Planet X and Bill Gates in 2007!

Add to Chart and the “10th Planet” Jubilee

The former “10th planet”, now largest dwarf planet 2003 UB313 celebrates its first birthday with Add to Chart Publications. The first astrologic publication on 2003 UB313 was published as early as August 1st 2005, only days after its official announcement. We immensely enriched the world of astrology and personal magick ever since. One of the results of our study was the special “X Zodiac” for 2003 UB313. Our publications teach the initiate how to scan as well as change any future event with dignity and competence.

Scientific Astrology

One of the best ways to get acquainted with zodiacal reformation is our standard grey cover publication on the basic principles of scientific astrology. You will get acquainted with the basic astronomic zodiac and current set of sixteen precessed ascendants as well.

Venus in Special Constellations

Venus was in Orion in summer 2006. It will be in Hydra next summer. Is your Venus in Scutum or perhaps Pegasus? Is your astro-love from Venus? Then this book is for her!

108 Points in Astrology

An early treatise consisting in 108 points pro scientific astrology. This collection of short notes served as manifest of the reformation and is still a valid manual for the astrologer.

I Ching Aspectarian

This precious volume contains the secrets of astrological prediction. Your transits and progressions filter new ranges of meaning when processed with I Ching Aspectarian.

Cassini Lilith

What do we learn on the secret observation of the damned moon with apocalyptic as well as openly sexual portents? True Lilith was observed in Italian and German priests as well.

The Dark Planets

We came across a set of seventeen hypothetical planets by sheer chance. We loved them, used them and wrote their delineation. Lamia, Ops and Hastur enliven the horoscope with the forbidden flavor of our first astrological experiments beyond Neptune and Pluto.

Real Time Reality Rendering Tools

Ever wanted to cure or do a miracle but you never had the time? Wonderworkers can perform an instant intervention in the texture of the event matrix bringing health, love and peace to this plane. Sometimes it takes minutes to create favorable circumstances. The RTRRT represent instant daily life magick from simple techniques like Cascade and O5 to the supreme magickal gadget of the Personal Cosmic Secretary. With your P.C.S. the daily experiences arrange by themselves as if enchanted by a fairy while with Snow Crash your wish comes true in minutes. Meet that person, find parking, cure an illness or get some extra bonus from life today with RTRRT. People used the RTRRT to get job, cure cancer, find love, get audience, win at the casino or get through a difficult astrological transit. Astrologers, occultists and laymen use the RTRRT with their transits, produce a favorable turn in circumstances before any bad transit happens. Why suffer a difficult transit when you can program your life ahead with RTRRT? And don't let fate, karma or bad habit stand on your way. No bad transits at all with reality rendering tools!

The Dwarf Planets

Copyright © 2006 by Klaudio Zic, all rights reserved. <http://www.lulu.com/astrology>

What are the dwarf planets? The first three dwarf planets to be acknowledged by the IAU are 2003 UB313, Pluto and Ceres. Size matters but also other factors do so that a major body such as 2003 EL61 might not qualify for the title of one of the largest dwarf planets simply due to its shape being all but round. The precise definitions by IAU as follow.

Begin quote

RESOLUTION 5A

The IAU therefore resolves that "planets" and other bodies in our Solar System be defined into three distinct categories in the following way:

(1) A "planet" /1 is a celestial body that (a) is in orbit around the Sun, (b) has sufficient mass for its self-gravity to overcome rigid body forces so that it assumes a hydrostatic equilibrium (nearly round) shape, and (c) has cleared the neighbourhood around its orbit.

(2) A "dwarf planet" is a celestial body that (a) is in orbit around the Sun, (b) has sufficient mass for its self-gravity to overcome rigid body forces so that it assumes a hydrostatic equilibrium (nearly round) shape /2 , (c) has not cleared the neighbourhood around its orbit, and (d) is not a satellite.

(3) All other objects /3 except satellites orbiting the Sun shall be referred to collectively as "Small Solar-System Bodies".

/1 The eight planets are: Mercury, Venus, Earth, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, and Neptune.

/2 An IAU process will be established to assign borderline objects into either dwarf planet and other categories.

/3 These currently include most of the Solar System asteroids, most Trans-Neptunian Objects (TNOs), comets, and other small bodies.

End quote

The definition may appear plain where it certainly is not simple at all. While waiting For the official nomination of further dwarf planets we shall propose some of the bodies from the following list as generated by the NASA JPL HORIZONS online integrator.

Charon may be included in the list. We shall retain the historical classifications at least for a while since we are accustomed to classify objects by their relative location thus the following example giving a rough idea of previous classifications.

Apoheles
 Earth Coorbitals
 Atens
 Apollos
 Amors
 Planets
 Main Belt Comets
 Main Belt Asteroids
 Centaurs
 Comets
 Damocles
 TNO
 SDO
 Cubewano
 Plutino

Some of the classifications are official such as TNO and some merely convenient like Damocles-like objects. An object can be reclassified in time, even years from its discovery! The above tables sort objects by brightness, roughly meaning size as concern minor planets, a category that would encompass most of the above objects and classes.

In our own time we have been accustomed to use other “classifications” such as “outer guardians” for objects with extreme period like the actual 2006 HW51.

A note for astrologers

Astrologers often use programs with poorly updated orbital elements for the asteroids. The main belt asteroids can actually be several degrees from the position as calculated by an average program. This is of course but a minor problem when it comes to precision versus superstition and we must close this comment at that.

In waiting for further decisions from the IAU we recommend the use of the astronomic zodiac as opposed to simple practical superstition while we wait for its introduction in the IAU files.

Dwarf Planets and Zodiacal Reformation

Copyright © 2006 by Klaudio Zic, all rights reserved. <http://www.lulu.com/astrology>

The August 2006 IAU Resolution reorganized the classes of objects we called cubewano, plutino, SDO, Earth coorbitals or Apoheles in three distinct classes of objects of which the most interesting seems to be the “dwarf planets”. 2003 UB313, Pluto and Ceres are officially “dwarfs” while 2005 FY9 and the rest are awaiting membership. What has changed for the serious astrologer?

- ☾ The delineation for the dwarf planets and “Small Solar-System Bodies” has not changed. Whether the object changed designation, classification, name or even nature does not change its delineation. Whatever giant TNO, comets, centaurs or minor planets we delineated in the past years, their delineation remains the same. This is especially true for 2003 UB313 or “Xena”, the major dwarf planet.
- ☾ The ascending constellations remain the same. At this epoch we have only 16 true eastern IAU constellations rising in due east. The number doubles in other epochs.
- ☾ Pluto never entered Aries. The nature of the dwarf planet makes it slide from Aquarius and through Cetus well into Taurus. Pluto never entered Pisces or Aries. One could not but laugh with disbelief at the very important gentlemen who decided that Pluto “presides over Aries”. Pluto co-rules Cetus with 2003 UB313 and Sedna.
- ☾ Pluto was incapable at confirming the aspects that astrologers expected from a planet. It never really made an opposition with Mars albeit the projections would have it. Its orbit prevented it to behave like a circumspect planet.
- ☾ So where was Pluto at the time its long pending fate was sealed? Pluto spent its last years in Ophiuchus before entering Serpens Cauda. It never entered Sagittarius as planet again. The last significant aspect it made sealed the future of the planet on July 4th 2006. Serpens Cauda happens to be the eastern ascendant of the U.S.A.

- ☾ The “P Zodiac” is no longer valid. This means that e.g. Bootes is no longer a zodiacal constellation. We are left with the so-called “N Zodiac” or Neptunian zodiac. This astronomic zodiac consists of 24 IAU constellation. When we say that Venus is in Orion in summer 2006 we use the astronomic zodiac. Further examples are the current entry of Jupiter into Ophiuchus as well as Venus in Hydra in summer 2007.
- ☾ In the opinion of the very few authorities that unofficially attempted at defining the astronomic zodiac, the Moon traditionally co-defines the zodiac. This e.g. immediately makes the IAU constellation of Auriga zodiacal. If in its own time the IAU votes against the Moon defining the zodiac then Auriga would not be zodiacal. Since Venus has the habit of dropping from Pegasus through Pisces and into Cetus this defines Pegasus, Pisces and Cetus as zodiacal constellation.
- ☾ The “X Zodiac” is fortunately not valid, too. It had so much constellations! If “Xena” would be planet astrologers just could not cope with over 40 constellations in their wheel charts. It will be a long time before Lynx becomes a zodiacal station, much longer than it takes for Lynx to become eastern ascendant again.

Quaoar in love, finance and magick, Varuna and 2002 AW197 as real estate cubewano. All delineation is set for the 12 astrological houses.

The new IAU standards have 2003 UB313, Pluto and Ceres for “dwarf planets”. The new class of planets is now official with 2005 FY9 probably as first elected candidate to join the historical trio.

www.lulu.com/astrology already hosts the delineation for the future dwarf planets from the time of their discovery when the classes of TNO were named cubewano, plutino or SDO. Transneptunian giants like Sedna, Orcus, Quaoar, Ixion or Varuna have their early delineation in a publication named Transneptunian Objects in Astrology. The Dwarf Planets series is thus an ennobled revision of the early delineation for the future dwarf planets in astrology.

Dwarf Planets

Copyright © 2006 by Klaudio Zic, all rights reserved. <http://www.lulu.com/astrology>

It seems astrologers lost something they never had. The object's name is still Pluto as it joins Jupiter in Ophiuchus this year. Jupiter might be another planet they never had as concern position and angular aspect. What we did have for a long time is the collection of dwarf planets. The little big ones have been delineated in the 12 astrological houses as soon as they were discovered. This refers mainly to 2003 UB313 that was nicked "Xena" or "10th planet" a year ago. We were of course aware that Pluto is not a planet many years ago as official decisions naturally lag behind discoveries. The Chinese may be aware of the fact that there are eight planets by a sole glance at I Ching Aspectarian system.

While there is still place for dwarf planets like 2003 UB313 and Pluto on the extended tree of life, there is no space left in the Chinese system that is clearly based on eight objects whether from this system and as well as it might be, Nibiru.

Pluto will remain a puzzle as most astronomic phenomena since it does not bend to the "laws of astrology" or any superstition for that matter. Pluto decided abdication after its transit in Serpens Cauda, an IAU constellation that happens to be the eastern ascendant of the U.S.A. The ever-helpful Pluto NASA ephemeris shows Pluto mainly occupied in Ophiuchus in the past years with generous sojourns into Serpens Cauda. Other ephemeris such as very revealing NASA Sun and Moon ephemeris, exposing Sun in Ophiuchus or Moon in Auriga; Venus ephemeris showing Venus in Orion or Hydra, or current ephemeris for the Jupiter's sojourn in Ophiuchus are downloadable from the site.

Our recommended publications include the 2003 UB313 series along with special early publication on 2003 EL61 and 2005 FY9. Delineation in the 12 houses is given for Sedna, Orcus, Quaoar, Ixion, Varuna and 2002 AW197. The collection of early delineation is entitled Transneptunian Astrology.

In our 108 Points in Astrology we mentioned the problem arising when astrologers assume Pluto is capable of making a 180 degrees opposition with Mars when in fact this is not true due to its inclination. Pluto will remain a mystery to astrologers for that and many other reasons. Finally if they never knew where the dwarf planet really stood in their natal charts, much as our astronomy forefathers hardly knew their own natal Sun position, one can rightfully say that nothing is lost and all ends up well for the dwarfs.

Personal Future Upgrade

Copyright © 2006 by Klaudio Zic, all rights reserved. <http://www.lulu.com/astrology>

The Future

What is the future and can we change it for good? Our intimate future can stand out emancipated from default future in that we can change it for our purposes. Since with the reality rendering tools suite we can change our future in minutes we immediately ask, “What is good for us?”

The Devil

We base our definition of the devil on the works of Carlos Castaneda. The personal devil is an inorganic being feeding on man much as man feeds on animals only that the pest is invisible to human beings. The victims are not aware of the problem since they were told not to since early childhood. A child is not supposed to be afraid of strange flying shades in his nursery much as an adult is not supposed to ask that kind of question. By asking the right kind of question one gets the right answer. There is a set of questions that one is supposed to ask along with default answers that make part of default mind. Man is created by default in the face of the devil. The personal devil installs one's own mind for greed and passion to generate emotion. The devil feeds on emanations from the victim from shopping malls to harlot paradise. There is a country born with the tail of the serpent rising in the east at birth that prospers in the area.

Personal Future

By “personal future” we mean the eternal future of one's own choice. Whatever does not fall into that category can be termed “default future”. The word “personal” might in fact not be chosen very well since it stands for something alien that we use as our “person”.

The person or interface is shown in the first house of the horoscope mainly 30 degrees under the eastern horizon. What lies 30 degrees above the eastern horizon is grace or the region of the immortals. This 12th house has been understood as the darkest of all because it is the house of the rising sun. The discrepancy is typical to false ego that twists meaning that can easily pass as dogma. In fact the whole of the astrological community gladly accepts that the darkest house of all is in the east. It is only “logical” that the east is dark since the sun did not rise and perhaps never will. Such apparently logical passages never undergo examination and if there is a complaint or theory it is either discarded or swept under the carpet. As concerns astrology lodges NASA is well under the target with God and reason apart from common sense and one’s own eyes as well. One is told not to observe the vault, not to see the rising sun, ignore moonrise and forget reason in order to believe in superstition as managed by the enemy of man that goes under the name of astrology. The devil has succeeded to convince reasonable people that their natal sun is in “Scorpio” where it is clearly in Virgo. The devil has ridiculed the American people by turning their heads from NASA and towards superstition. An immense host of illiterate people that pass under the name of astrologers provides personality conflict of global scale by telling the client his wrong natal data. It would be tedious to enumerate the web sites and authors divulging misinformation. Kepler, Newton and Nostradamus could not do anything else but join in since corruption flowered already at the time of the Greeks.

In Praise of the Evil One?

In mock “praise of the devil” we may say we are impressed by all pervading disinterest in truth as concerns one’s self. The praise goes to the strategic measures taken. The devil installs a would-be personal mind that is in fact its own. The original mind peters out by the average age of three. The process of taking that original mind from the human baby is in great acceleration since we (the devil and us) provide the newborn with computer gadgets. We can’t wait to have a tabula rasa to operate upon.

Default Mind Uninstaller

We uninstall false ego by wiping out opposites. Opposites form the binary mind. The binary mind or yin yang mind is not our own at all however fantastic or implausible it might sound to the newcomer.

So how do we transpire to true mind? All we need is an opportunity to start over without prejudice, a clear slate. According to John Locke tabula rasa is a young mind not yet affected by experience.

The description of the process from True Mind Distiller includes sample pairs of opposites to discreate before the original clear slate appears. One can either program one’s clear slate or enjoy it. A cornucopia can probably deliver a wish that is not good for us and as such not our own.

In our naive way we described it as follow. The advice to the initiate was to express a wish instantly after discreation so that no random vibration enters his sphere. The wording went something like this. After clearing one’s mind from doubts one expresses a wish. A vacuum such as a pure untroubled mind is nevertheless open to random suggestions from the open universe. Thus it is dangerous to let any random vibration enter the initiate’s mental sphere after discreation.

The methods we used to produce results were based on clearing technology. One replicates the negativity in one's own mind, the better to puff it up and discreate. A temporal mind void is then filled with positive intent.

We of course discovered that there is nothing better than a holy mantra to fill the void. Since the mantra is professed as perfect it was our best asset in fighting chaos. The technique that kept its working name of "Oberon 5" thus returned to its eastern origins. But our mission was not complete yet.

The average initiate will alas be driven by the devil into false reprogramming of one's clear slate and back into the arms of the daddy. Thus Deprogramation can fail. This is one of the reasons for the true guru. At this epoch it is difficult to find one with the proliferation of gurus and avatars

The pairs of opposite can be discreated with O5. Discreate this, discreate that and what is left is pretty close to true mind. No mama, no papa; no time, no space; neither this nor that and there you are!

We uninstall false ego by wiping out opposites. We chose a set of typical opposites that form the top of the list. This is done by the O5 master. The typical pairs are the sun and the moon, father and mother, penis and vulva, yang and yin, god and devil and so on.

The Man in the Street

If the initiate has obscure "binary mind" problems what of the man in the street? An O5 initiate is perfectly capable of materializing anything and that within minutes when Snow Crash initiation takes over. What about the simple fellow in the street? He is of course easily manipulated but if the exceptional fellow is a simple one perhaps he has even more chances than the initiate himself does.

The Science of Superstition in the Age of Aquarius

Copyright © 2006 by Klaudio Zic, all rights reserved. <http://www.lulu.com/astrology>

A Shameful Past

Astrology became obscure since the arrival of the primitive Greek tribes in Egypt and the fall of Mayan civilization. Humanity suffered enchained in dark ignorance ever since. Common astrological programs produce errors ranging from 40 to fantastic 270 degrees, apart from total misconception and general superstition known as western astrology.

It is amazing that in a country known by its astronomical feats one can't find any trace of astrology proper. The blame is of course not on us since error and misconception are due to lack of initiation resulting in superstition. Astrological program makers occasionally do know the right position of the planets but are of course quite unable to compete with astronomy. Astronomy is thus robbed of data and mission for the sake of superstition.

Superstition in Western Astrology

Superstition says that everybody born on spring equinox has natal Sun in Aries. While that could be true in other epochs it can not possibly hold water at this one since precession as we measure it has moved from Aries to the constellation of Pisces.

One is welcome to study astronomy as well as observation before any attempt to predictive calculus. Astrologers like Kepler, Newton or Nostradamus were not able to calculate their own natal position of the Sun. We have to wait only 650 years full of hope towards an informed planet and initiated children of man.

Astrologers apparently believe in a fixed vault with the earth rotating around its axis. This rotation is complex as giving rise to long-term phenomena such as one known as precession. It is due to precession that George cannot possibly have Aries ascending in its horoscope. At the time when Aries rose in one's horoscope there the name George was not invented yet. There was much diversity at the heroic time when King Arthur's Aries was rising and the Grail of Crater, too. The Lamb was young but already coping with at least twice as much ascendant than e.g. present epoch Cetus' competition. Different sorts of people were born under different skies. Nobody would support a pharaoh who had Lepus ascending since Orion or Osiris stood well above this soothing little constellation.

The Last Unicorn

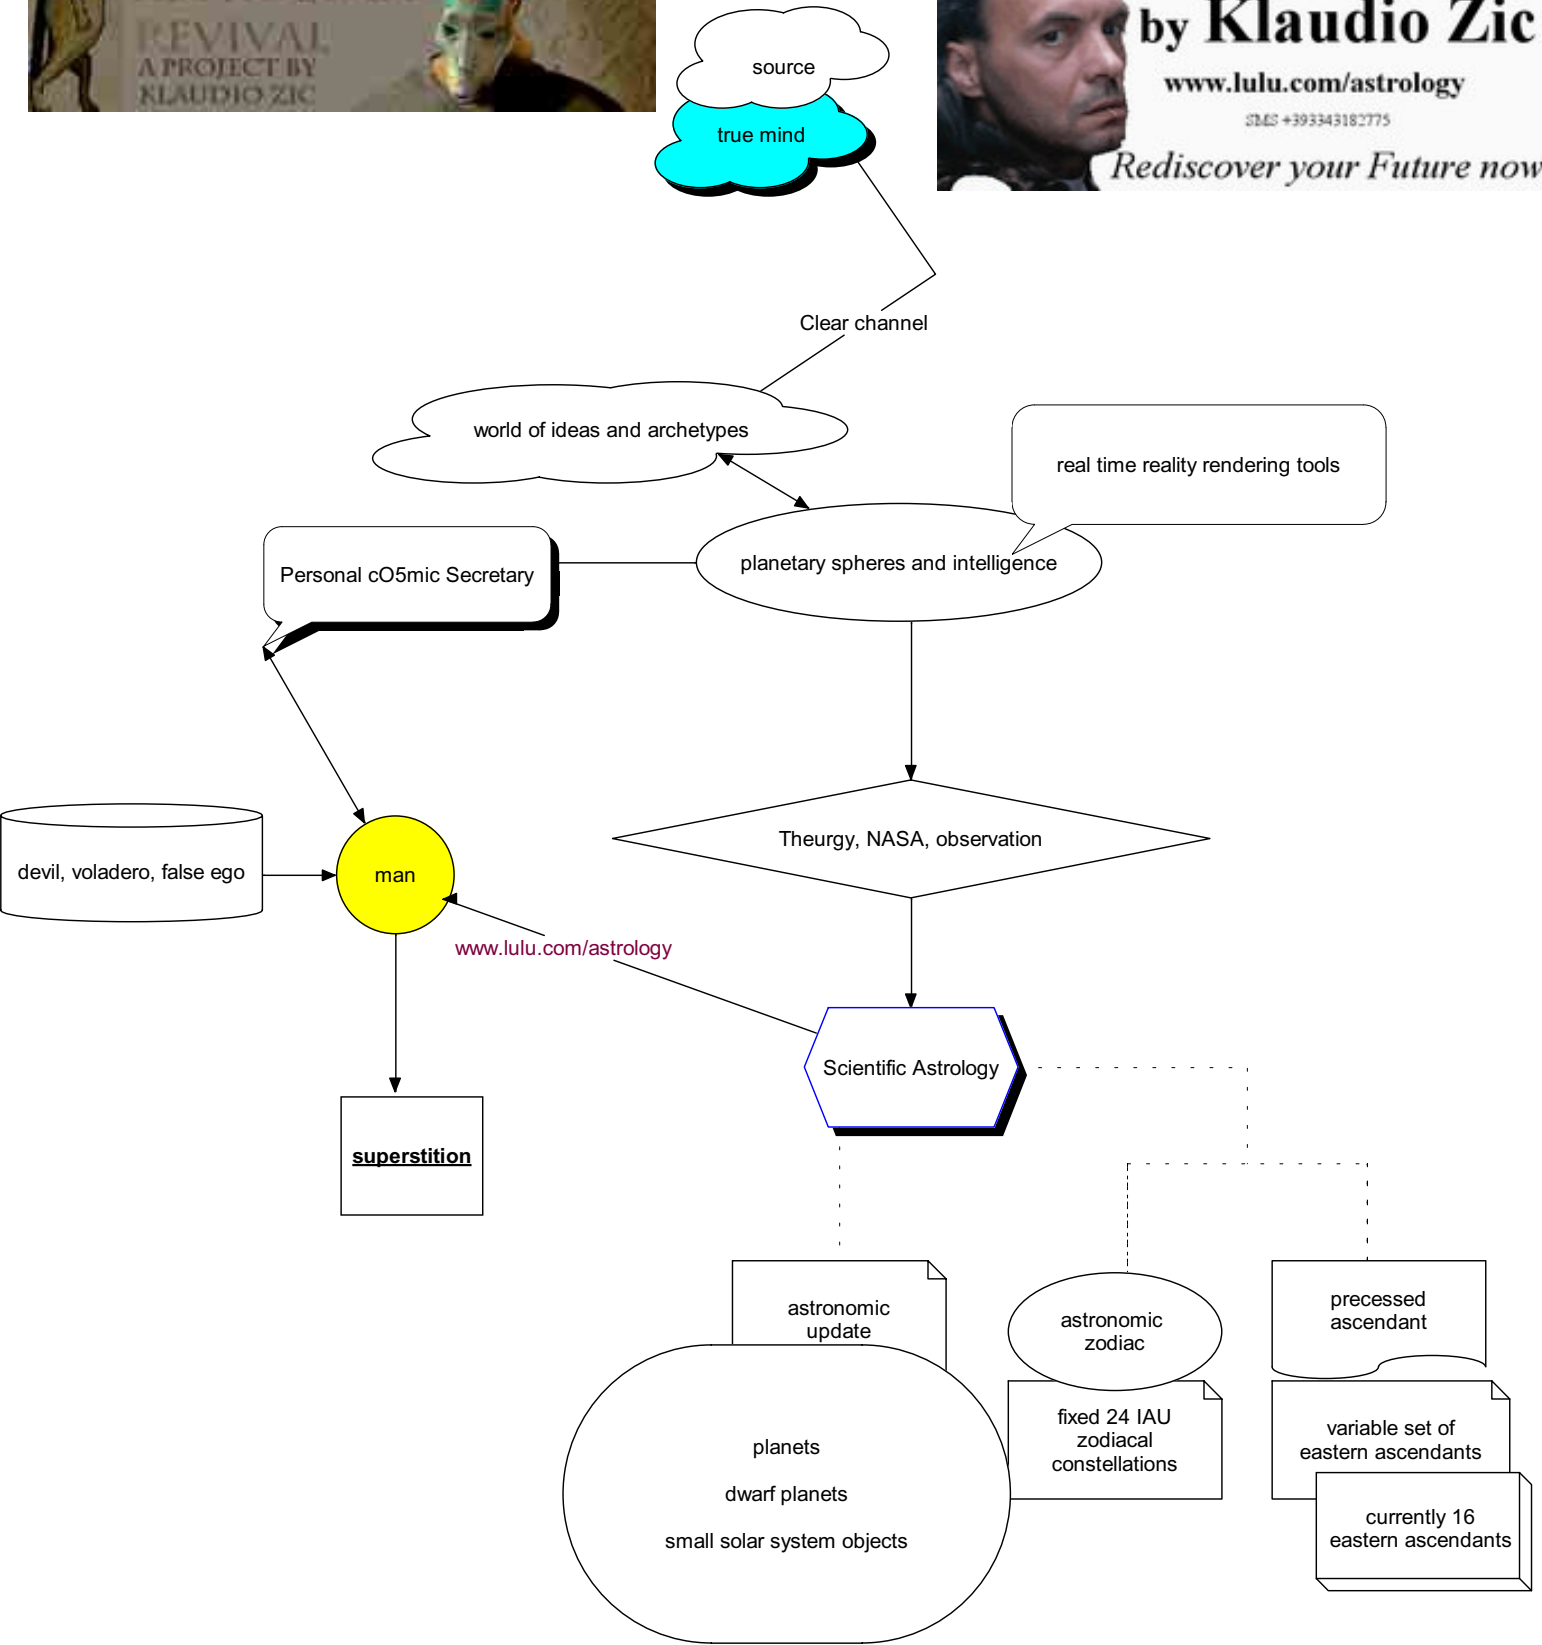

An ascendant is the star and constellation rising in the east. This definition differs from the astrologic one by 0 – 360 degrees. The amount of error as made by what goes under recent astrology is thus unlimited. There are of course 88 ascendants as defined by our IAU standards but only 16 for the present epoch. This results in uniformity rather than diversity. In other epochs diversity ruled as Draco was rising or Lepus descending. In our article about the royal family we stated that members of the family have Unicorn setting in their horoscopes meaning the end of the royal line. The Unicorn is of course Monoceros. Hydra (Masonry) and Sextans (Vatican) separate the Lion and Unicorn in the sky with neighboring Canis Minor (U.S.A.). Vatican has Sextans ascending, American president George Bush has Canis Minor ascending and Hydra rose at Cairo when the Book of Law was written. The detail with Egyptian purport is available although the site www.lulu.com/astrology with frequent references to Procyon, Sirius and Venus in Orion as well as the apocalyptic entry of Venus in Hydra as scheduled for next year.

Where are the Planets?

So where are the planets? The planets are obviously not where recent astrology puts them. Pluto is entering Ophiuchus on its exit from the American ascendant constellation of Serpens Cauda and on its way towards the negative stargate in Sagittarius. Jupiter enters Ophiuchus. Venus was recently in Orion. The Moon is in Auriga and so on. We trust that no “astrologer” understood a word of this because this is astrology.

Something that is unable to calculate the position of the planets is called superstition. As everybody knows superstition comes from the devil. Carlos Castaneda and his two-mind concept best explain this.

One can not believe in God and NASA while embracing superstition at the same time. The transcendental conflict between the devil (false ego) and true mind must be cured with scientific truth. No astrologer could stand even a minor test, of course. The matter will give rise to scandal when exposed but since it is the devil that is actually in command on this planet of man, people would rather keep to superstition. Scientific truth is for the scientist, superstition for the people, but even a scientist is sometimes baffled into thinking he’s a “Scorpio” when his natal Sun is clearly in Virgo and there are of course plenty examples of even more fantastic cheat. The matter could be exposed at any IAU conference as part of the program. Astrologers don’t accept scientific truth “by definition” and it would be impossible much as it was in the past 2000 years to accept heavens or even observe the sky.

Lucky Days with Bill Gates

Bill Gates has everything to do with the dwarf planets (once again!) since his natal Moon is conjunct the largest dwarf planet known as 2003 UB313.

A year ago we published an experimental table of lucky days as based on the Bill Gates horoscope and our own estimation as well. The aspect between Moon in Pisces and largest dwarf planet 2003 UB313 in Cetus was judged fortunate.

Note that albeit the Moon is often in Cetus as well, it does not make an aspect from Cetus but from subsequent Pisces constellation, at least as concern our ecliptic-based concept of general astrology. Alternatively we tend to measure aspects by azimuth and altitude.

The following scans are an upgrade to the “lucky days” as published in the year 2005. The idea was to use some of Bill Gates luck consisting mainly on minute channeling of the Moon 2003 UB313 energies. These combined energies are Bill Gates forte.

Timing is traditionally given for Seattle. Note that the topocentric Moon position was virtually measured for Seattle. The reader will find the data on the left bottom corner of every scan and make correction for his own time zone.

How to apply the data? One must correct for time zone first. Experienced astrologers may want to correct the calculus for the local or topocentric Moon. Timing is used much as with lottery when Venus Jupiter and Uranus plot for excellent timing for the winners.

The lucky days are thus made of very lucky minutes if your timing is perfect. Try and be exact to the minute in using your extra luck as combined with Jupiter Uranus transits, directions or progressions.

Good Luck!
