Scientific Astrology Definition

Scientific Astrology is the sky as everyone sees it, whether with naked eye or telescope. This statement puts one at ease since we invented nothing new. We just used the data as given by authorities such as NASA for our astrologic calculations.

What is New

So what is new for the astrologer? What is new was already said. We use the data exactly as supplied by authorities as NASA. In other words we scan your natal chart as any astronomer would. This answers what is new in our approach to astrology.

Results

The results are amazing. The number of the zodiacal constellations has doubled. The ascendant has precessed. We are facing a basic astronomic zodiac made of 24 constellations, as well as the present set of precessed ascendants amounting to 16.

Astronomic Zodiac

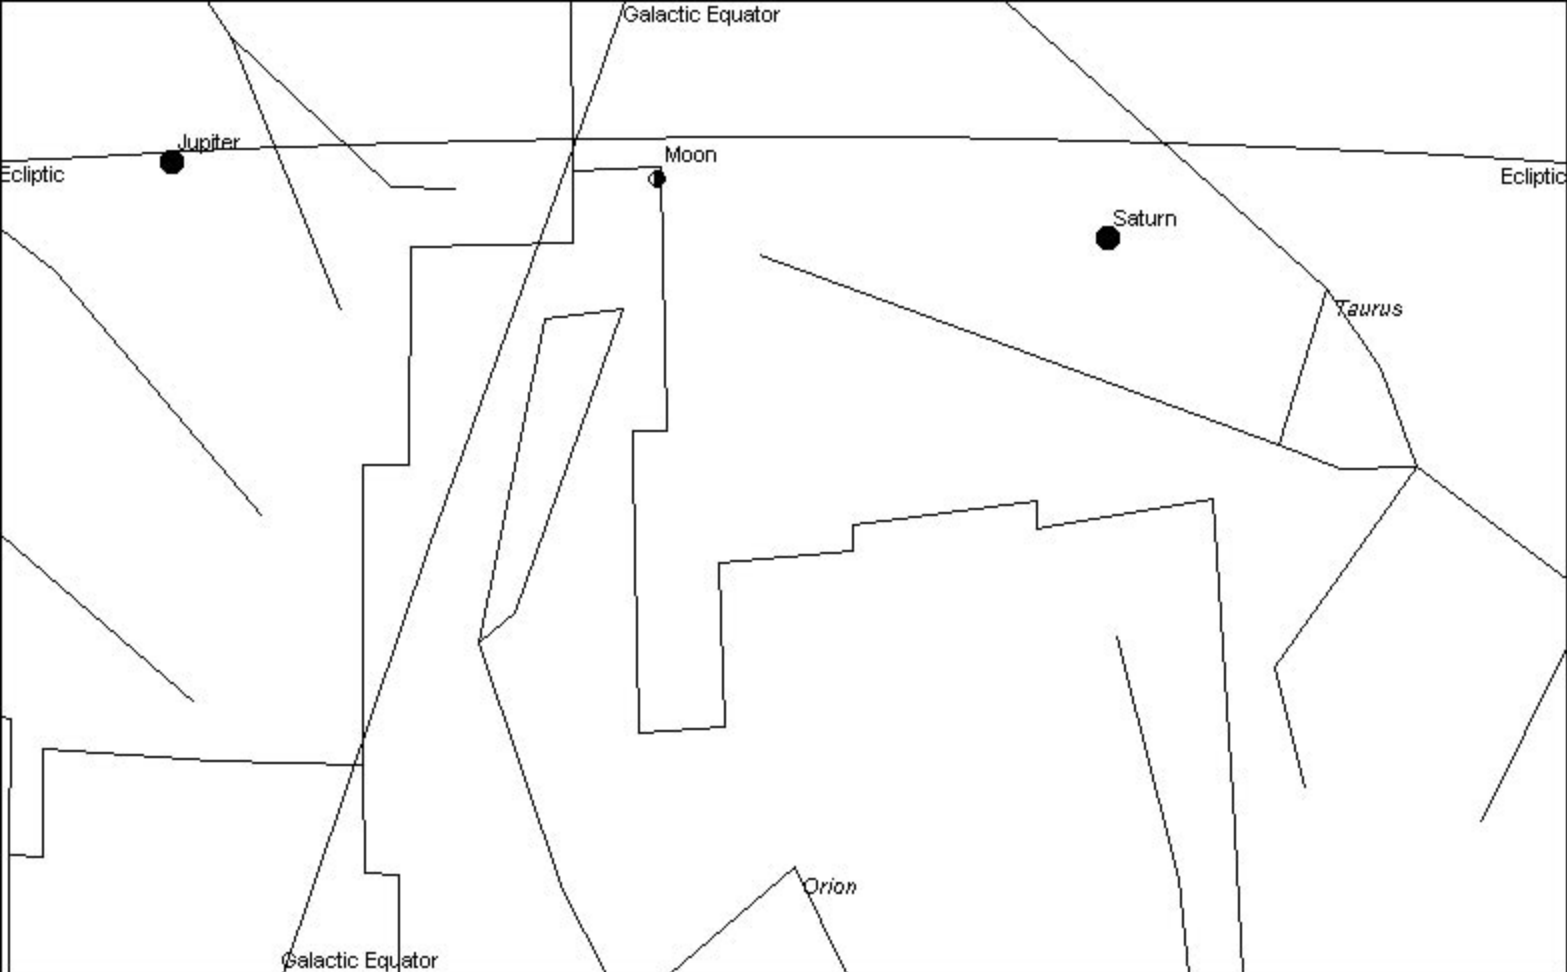

The zodiac is defined by the position of the Sun, Moon and the planets. With Moon in Orion, such as in the case of 09/11/2001, it is clear that Orion is of course a zodiacal constellation. All planets pass through Orion, so that we have generations born with Saturn or Pluto in Orion. Children born in August 2007 will have Venus in Hydra, thus Hydra is another zodiacal constellation. All the 24 constellations of the basic astronomic zodiac have been delineated on the site.

Precessed Ascendant

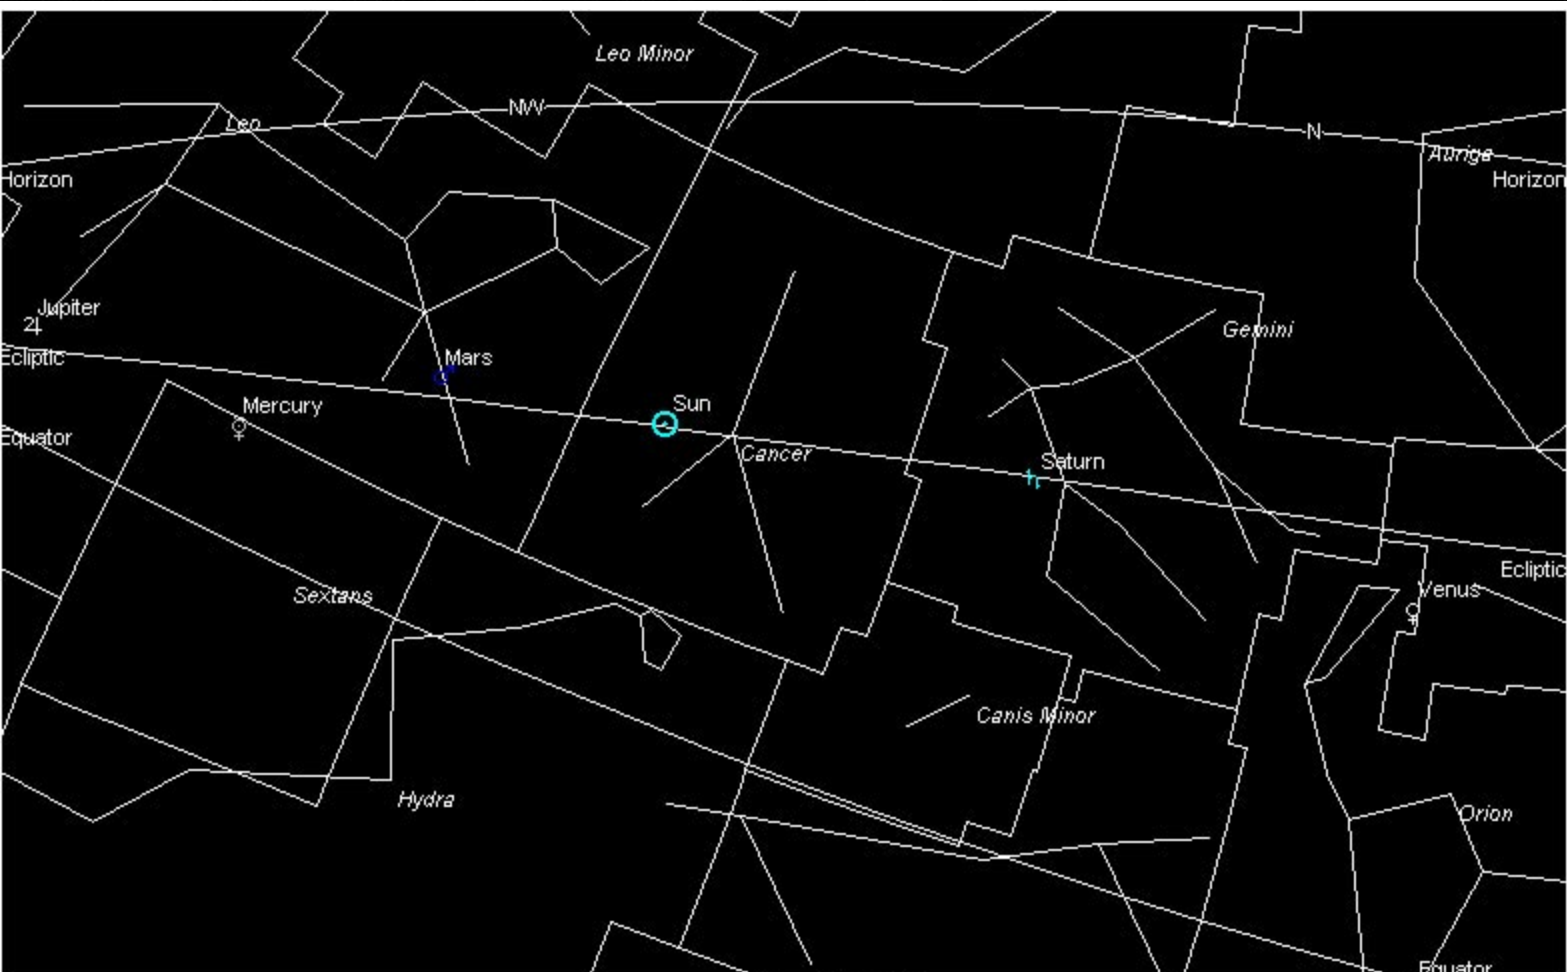

The skies change with epoch and so does the ascendant. The number of ascendants changes with epoch. The ascendant has nothing to do with the zodiac, although some zodiacal constellations can be ascidental at a certain epoch. The U.S.A. has Serpens ascending where so-called sidereal astrology would perhaps have Ophiuchus. Lepus rising in a pharaoh chart was a bad omen, but Crater rising at the time of king Clovis baptism was the omen of the Grail. Aries and Crater rose at the time of King Arthur.

Implications

The implications are vast Your ascendant and all planetary positions have been miscalculated from the start. Taken for example an August 2004 child as presented on the site, Alice has ascendant Cetus with Moon in Cetus, Mercury in Sextans, Venus in Orion, Juno in Scutum and Pluto in Serpens. This is a special child misunderstood by popular astrology. Miscalculations by popular web sites amount to 270 degrees.
